Is it Love or Infatuation?

Only YOU can know for sure. Be honest with yourself, trusting that when you do relationships God's way, His goodness will never withhold what's best for you. Maybe do it once for yourself and then again from your "significant other's" point of view. Check the one that best answers each question:

#1 – TIME with this person

- ① Our emotional connection came on slowly, over time.
- ② Our emotional connection came on immediately or very quickly.

#2 – KNOWLEDGE of CHARACTERISTICS of this person

- ① I've made a careful, long-term appraisal of many characteristics.
- ② I'm familiar with only one or a few characteristics.

#3 – SOCIAL FOCUS as a couple

- ① We generally enjoy social interaction with other people.
- ② We generally prefer to keep to ourselves.

#4 – SINGULAR FOCUS toward the other person

- ① Our relationship is exclusive. I'm truly dedicated to only this one person.
- ② I think it's possible to be "in love" with two or more people at the same time.

#5 – SECURITY in the relationship

- ① I'm secure. I have a stable trust in this person based on long-term experience.
- ② I'm insecure. I'm operating on wishful thinking. I'm frequently jealous.

#6 – WORK attitudes

- ① I'm spurred to ambition, planning, and saving for the future. My motivation is aimed at our mutual benefit.
- ② I've lost ambition, appetite, and care for daily affairs. I'm prone to day dreams that are probably unrealistic. I'm frequently miserable.

#7 – PROBLEM SOLVING as a couple

- ① We face issues openly and share honestly to solve them. We seek others' input about how to overcome problems.
- ② We ignore or dismiss our problems. We reject others' input even if they're right.

#8 – DISTANCE when it's unavoidable

- ① My interest and care for the relationship remain strong during separation.
- ② I become impatient, frustrated, or even angry during separation.

#9 – PHYSICAL ATTRACTION & INVOLVEMENT as a couple

- ① Physical attraction wasn't initially a factor in the relationship. We're reserving physical contact as an expression of deeper commitment.
- ② Physical contact is a primary reason to be together. I'm frustrated when physical contact isn't possible because other people are around.

#10 – PUBLIC AFFECTION as a couple

- ① We're modest in our physical expressions when we're with other people.
- ② We're physically demonstrative no matter who's around or where we are.

#11 – STABILITY as a couple

- ① This relationship will remain strong under pressure. I'm free to say what I think or feel.
- ② This relationship will fail under pressure. I'm afraid to say what I think or feel.

#12 – DELAYED GRATIFICATION regarding marriage

- ① I'm patient regarding what's best for the relationship. I'm very willing to take the time to soberly assess whether or not this is a wise lifetime commitment.
- ② I feel a sense of urgency. The thought of postponement is intolerable. I'm ignoring common sense when it comes to making a lifetime commitment.
