Tuesday, August 7 Agenda #3: Intimidate and Isolate, Part 2	If God is good... and He's all-knowing... how does it make sense that good people go through some of the worst circumstances? Well, today on Living on the Edge with Chip Ingram, Chip says there's a better way to phrase the question: Since God is good and all-knowing, how can we respond to the worst circumstances? Do we allow Satan to intimidate and isolate us? Or do we move closer to God, who helps us through? That's Living on the Edge, at _____, right here on _____.

Monday, August 13 Agenda #5: Perpetuate Prejudice, Part 2	Someone has said, "Prejudice may not be our fault, but it IS our problem." The truth is, prejudice is a tool, used by Satan, to perpetuate anger and division among all people groups. Today, on Living on the Edge with Chip Ingram, Chip tells us that since Satan operates in a spiritual dimension, it's going to take more than a human agenda to solve prejudice. Don't miss Chip as he opens Acts, chapter 10, for some answers. That's Living on the Edge, at _____, right here on _____.
